

Jokemaster

Intro Script

“As the Jokemaster, my job is to add some levity to the beginning of the meeting.”

Before the Meeting.

- Think of a joke that you can share. Your joke should be at least 45 seconds and no more than 1:15 seconds. Your joke should be funny and appropriate for all audiences. You can also choose to do a series of one liners.

Role Supplies

- None

During the Meeting

- When called upon by the Presiding Officer, go to the front of the room and shake hands (or bump elbows) with him or her.
- Provide your role introduction (see script above) and joke.
- Shake hands (or bump elbows) again with the Presiding Officer and sit down.

Tips

- Practice your joke such that you can get the timing of the punch line down. Practice will also ensure you present your joke in the allotted time.
  - Try to make your joke(s) related to the meeting theme.
